HOOKED ON HOLIDAY MOVIES

the Halloween candy game

We know: It's ridiculous that holiday movies now start before Halloween. So why not embrace the lunacy? Grab your remote, a cozy blanket, and that big bowl of Halloween candy and play along. It will be magical!

EAT ONE PIECE OF CANDY EVERY TIME YOU SEE...

- Cityscape in opening scene
- Christmas-themed name (Holly, Eve, Nick, Chris, etc.)
- Main characters are old friends or classmates
- Christmas cookies are baked, decorated, and/or eaten
- Significant other clearly not right for the main character
- Hot chocolate is made, served, and/or consumed
- Small town with holiday traditions
- Small business needs saving
- Locally sourced food or merchandise
- Holiday festival
- Main character is single parent
- Christmas tree lighting ceremony
- Pretend relationship
- Leaving high-powered career to follow a dream
- The boss finally gives someone their big shot
- Speech or toast about the meaning of Christmas
- Silly misunderstanding derails a relationship
- Journalist, blogger, or vlogger as main character
- Snowball fight
- Small-town gazebo
- Obviously fake snow
- Kissing under the mistletoe

Eat two pieces of candy if the snowball fight is near the gazebo or if snow begins to fall during a kiss!
And eat one piece of candy for each and every 80s or 90s TV actor you spot.
